WHO ARE WE?

The West Vancouver Youth Philanthropy Council (YPC) is a youth led organization dedicated to identifying the issues youth are facing in our community and solving them through means of philanthropy. We are proud to have youth from different schools across the North Shore participating in our three active committees.

ISSUES WE HAVE IDENTIFIED IN OUR COMMUNITY

MENTAL HEALTH

INCLUSIVITY

ENVIRONMENT

ENVIRONMENT WORKSHOP

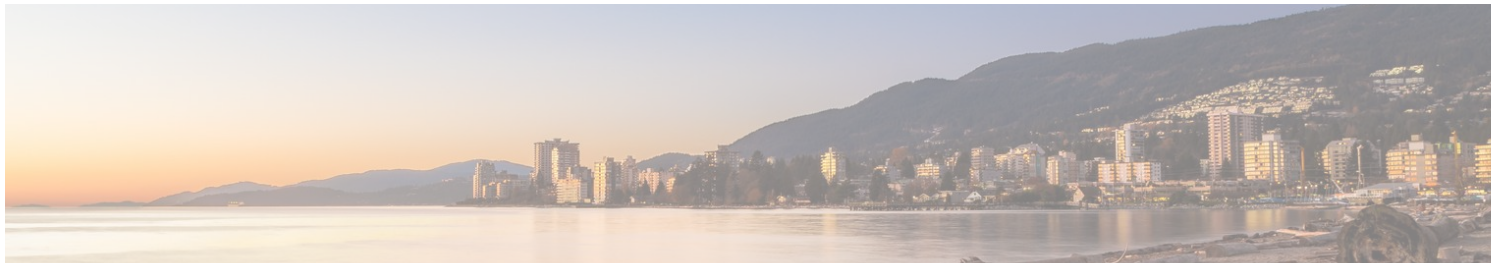

YPC is working towards building an environmental campaign that will be live in the near future. To learn more about how to best help the earth, we took part in an environmental workshop led by Brennan Strandberg-Salmon. Brennan is an experienced researcher, project manager, and volunteer coordinator with a specialization in resource and environmental management, water conservation, and climate change. He is currently attending SFU and hopes to pursue a career in environmental solutions and innovation.

WHAT ARE WE DOING?

At the moment we are organizing our 100 Youth Who Care event and further developing our Environment Campaign. We believe it is extremely important to engage with youth on issues that impact them, their communities, and globally.

JUNE 100 YOUTH WHO CARE EVENT

RECRUITMENT

We are looking for students who are interested in making a meaningful change in our community. If you are interested in joining one of our three committees for the 2021/22 school year, please apply HERE. In being a member of the West Vancouver Youth Philanthropy Council you will collaborate and connect with other like-minded youth to create positive changes locally.

SAVE THE DATE JUNE 9

On June 9th, 2021, at 7pm, we will be holding our second virtual '100 Youth Who Care' event. Come and show your support for some amazing charities! There will be prizes and you'll earn volunteer hours. YOUR vote counts towards the night's granting!
